Information

At yearly intervals the member states of the Association of European Public Postal Operators, PostEurop, issue stamps on a common theme. In 2017 their focus is on palaces and castles. Liechtenstein's contribution to the popular Europa stamps are illustrations of "Vaduz Castle" (value: CHF 1.50) and "Gutenberg Castle" (value: CHF 1.50).

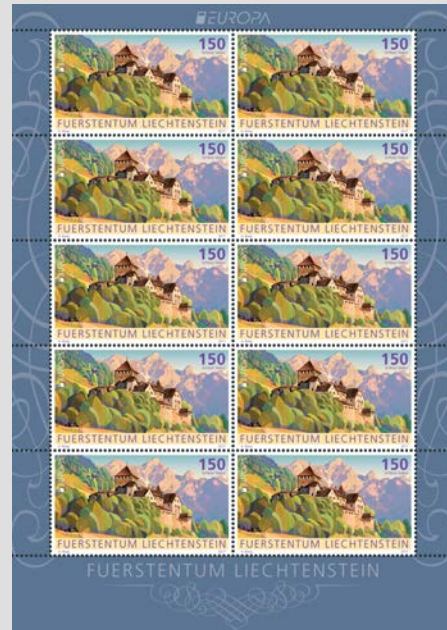

Perched around 120 metres above the capital of the small country, Vaduz Castle is a hallmark that has served as a residence for the head of state and his family since 1939. The castle is presumed to date back to the 12th century: Experts assume that the keep was built first and an inhabited tower was added in 1287. Mentioned for the first time in 1322, the castle came into the possession of the Princely Family of Liechtenstein in 1712.

Gutenberg Castle is located in the country's southernmost municipality, Balzers, and was built in the High Middle Ages. The castle hill is around 70 metres high and has been inhabited ever since the Neolithic period. Originally a church with a cemetery, the building fell into ruin over the course of several centuries but was restored between 1905 and 1912. The outer courtyard is open to visitors the whole year round but the castle chapel and parts of the castle only at specific times.

In collaboration with Fotoclub Spektral, Philately Liechtenstein carried out a youth photo competition on the theme of "Outdoor Sports" and accepted entries from young people from Liechtenstein, Switzerland and Austria aged up to 21 years. Besides the theme, no requirements were specified regarding the motif, location or type of sport. The jury was impressed by the sheer number and quality of the photos entered and in an anonymous evaluation procedure awarded first place to Julius Tiefenthaler from Röthis (A) for his photo "Smooth Powder Turn" (value: CHF 0.85). It shows freerider Tao Kreibich, a young man from the Vorarlberg region in Austria, making perfect tracks in the deep snow between the sun and shade. "Winter Storm Windsurfing" (value: CHF 1.00) by Yannick Oberhofer from Vaduz was chosen for the second stamp. His powerful photo was taken on Corsica. Julius Tiefenthaler supplied a further motif for the third special stamp: "Sunset Backflip" (value: CHF 2.00), which again shows Tao Kreibich but this time doing a backward flip against the backdrop of a beautiful sunset. The special stamps are issued in high-quality silver print on 16-stamp sheetlets.

SEPAC is a cooperation between 14 small postal administrations in Europe that issue stamps on common themes on a regular basis. This year each country is creating its own special stamp on the theme of trades and crafts. Philately Liechtenstein used this as an opportunity to integrate its SEPAC stamp this year into a series that will be continued in the future.

Graphic artist René Wolfinger chose to graphically represent the three motifs with pictograms and placed these on different coloured backgrounds. A common feature on each special stamp is a stylised hand to symbolise the theme of trades and crafts. On the SEPAC stamp depicting the "Goldsmith" profession (value: CHF 2.00), one of the oldest metalcrafts, the pictograms show a hammer, pliers, tweezers and screw clamp. The "Stonemason" special stamp (value: CHF 1.30) shows the graphic symbols of a hammer, pointed chisel and drove chisel. The oldest still preserved pieces of work of this profession are around 40,000 years old. By contrast, thimble, scissors, needles, measuring tape and sewing machine are to be seen on the "Tailor" special stamp (value: CHF 1.80). The origins of this profession go back to the middle 12th century.

Philately Liechtenstein is continuing its popular series of self-adhesive definitive stamps on a 20-stamp sheet with four indigenous types of grain: “Oats” (value: CHF 0.85), “Barley” (value: CHF 1.00), “Maize” (value: CHF 1.50) and “Millet” (value: CHF 2.00) are grown in Liechtenstein and partly processed here too. Farming in Liechtenstein is autonomous and diverse with one third of the national territory used for farming. Apart from dairy and meat products, agriculture, horticulture and viticulture is carried out. In this context, grain accounts for a share of around six percent of the agricultural land spanning 5,234 hectares.

the region. Cornmeal is a basic ingredient of Ribel, a traditional regional dish. From the 18th until well into the 20th century, Ribel counted as one of the main foods of the smallholder farming population in the Rhine Valley and was usually eaten at breakfast time.

Maize, which was originally came from Mexico, is often grown in the Alpine state as a fodder plant. Ever since the 17th century, grain has also played an important role in the cultural and economic history of

NexoFil Award

Every year the NexoFil Award is bestowed in Spain. This competition is organised by “EL ECO”, the leading Spanish philately magazine, with nations participating from around the world. An international jury consisting of 40 experts from Europe and America rated the stamps submitted in ten different categories. In the process the Liechtenstein stamp “International Year of Light” from 2015 was selected as the winner of the “Most Innovative Stamp” category. This stamp was designed by Leone Ming and depicts three light phenomena: a fluorescent background that glows in the dark, a microperforation to diffract light rays and a special colour that changes from pink to violet when exposed to UV light. This stamp already received the coveted Red Dot Award one year ago.

China Annual Best Foreign Stamp Poll

Liechtenstein also managed to win a category in the “China Annual Best Foreign Stamp Poll” competition that has now taken place for the twelfth time in Beijing. The “Old Fruit Varieties: Apples” sheetlet impressed the jury and fended off all the competitors from over 40 countries in the “Most Beautiful Sheetlet” category. The sheetlet shows eight indigenous types of apples on hexagonal stamps. The detailed illustrations are by Angelo Boog.
