Three special stamps with detailed motifs depicting ice scenes are the latest addition to the "Artistic Photography" stamp series. Photographer Sepp Köppl took the macro photos "Ice Flow" (face value: CHF 1.00), "Stone Islands" (face value: CHF 1.10) and "Stream-lines" (face value: CHF 1.30) on the River Rhine. High-relief embossing and thermography used to apply pulverised stones from the river to the stamps give them a unique character and a very special grainy feel.

The history of the Rhine Valley where Liechtenstein is located is closely linked to that of the River Rhine as it forms a natural border with Switzerland. It also serves as a local recreational area for the inhabitants of the valley and offers photographers fantastic views at any time of year. As a passionate photographer, Sepp Köppl is fascinated by water. In a newspaper interview about one of his exhibitions, he explained: "Water is incredibly photogenic. Whether in a liquid or frozen state, there is no other medium that serves as such a good motif". Sepp Köppl doesn't manipulate or process his photographs, he merely defines the section of the image on the computer. By selecting a particular section, his images show the viewer details that he or she would scarcely notice with the naked eye.

Four secular and Christian motifs adorn this year's self-adhesive special stamps for the Christmas season. The figures depicted can still be found today on traditionally decorated Christmas trees.

The "Snowman" (face value: CHF 0.85) symbolises winter and the wish for a white Christmas. This hope is also kept alive in numerous Christmas carols. The "Nutcracker" (face value: CHF 1.00) is a Christmas symbol, especially in its home country of Germany. But it also found its way into the world after the Second World War: The manufacturer of the wooden figure had to leave the Erz Mountains and move to Hanover as many American soldiers were stationed there and returned home with a nutcracker as a souvenir.

The "Rocking Horse" (face value: CHF 1.50) also plays a role in many Christmas poems and songs. As this toy was only used in wealthy families for a long time due to its originally elaborate design, it became a symbol of unfulfilled wishes for poorer sections of the population. It is a well-known fact that "Angels" (face value: CHF 2.00) play an important role as heavenly messengers in the biblical Christmas story.

This year the Philately is adding its ninth motif to its elaborately designed series on Chinese Signs of the Zodiac. The upcoming Chinese Year runs from 25 January 2020 to 11 February 2021 and is reigned by the rat.

The rat is the first sign in the Chinese zodiac. According to the Chinese horoscope, people born in the Year of the Rat have a quick mind, are curious and search high and low for lucrative opportunities. The mysterious and clever animal seems to be able to solve all of life's problems. Its character is reinforced by the element of the year – metal. This stands for firmness and determination, according to astrologers. For the “Year of the Rat” (face value: CHF 2.00), the Philately is once again publishing a self-adhesive special stamp in the form of a filigree silhouette cut using the latest laser technology. The sheet of four stamps in red, a symbol of happiness in China, is also punched out in the shape of a rodent. All imprints were applied in elegant gold foil embossing.

The "Chinese Signs of the Zodiac: Rat" has now also appeared as an exclusive, numbered printed sheet.

To protect the sheets from damage during transport, good transport packaging is required which, unfortunately, has led to slightly higher shipping costs:

- Switzerland CHF 36.00
- Europe CHF 63.00
- Overseas CHF 83.00

You can obtain the printed sheets without additional charge at the exhibition stands, at the post offices in Schaan, Balzers and Ruggell or collect them from Philately Liechtenstein, Alte Zollstrasse 11 in Schaan against cash payment (please call our customer service first).

A visit will be well worthwhile.

The friendly neighbour relations with Switzerland are once again a good reason for publishing a joint issue. The two special stamps are the result of a competition between the two postal operators, which three designers from Switzerland and three from Liechtenstein were invited to enter with "Social Diversity" being defined as the multifaceted theme. The Swiss Post is actively promoting this theme with three networks that connect its employees throughout the Group and Switzerland through one aspect of diversity. This can be family, work and leisure, but also culture, language, sexual and demographic diversity.

Samuel Jordi from Zurich (CH) uses a digital illustration to depict a wide variety of life situations with his winning design "Puzzle of Society" (face value: CHF 0.85). The drawing "Throng" (face value: CHF 1.00) by Luigi Olivadotti from Mauren (FL) shows a colourful collection of cheerful people. Both motifs convey a positive image and are characterised by tolerance, openness and modernity.

The joint stamp issue of both Switzerland and Liechtenstein will appear on 14 November 2019.

The postal organisations of Austria, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Switzerland and Germany have worked together repeatedly for years. This cooperation has again expressed itself this year in a joint project for Christmas. The current Christmas stamps of these countries will be united in the philatelic commemorative set "Christmas Multilateral 2019" full of Christmas spirit. For decades, the six countries have planned special Christmas stamps every year. These stamps serve particularly to provide festive postmarks for greetings and postal items at Christmas but are also very popular as collectors' items in stamp collections.
